VENUE: Harvey

DATE: 10/4/00

DAY: Wednesday

EXT: 594,

Performance # 1

House Opened: 7:05pm

Act I Began: 7:37pm

Ended: 9:10pm

Total Running Time: 1:37

General Management: A stagehand was added to the show crew.

Theater Management: Nothing to report.

Building Operations: Nothing to report.

Production Notes:

- The crew worked through dinner to take care of notes and final prep. The extra hands over the show call were kept on during this time.
- Seats S114 and S115 were killed for sound to run vocal reinforcement.
- The top box on the house right side will still be used, but the company has decided to now use the one closer to the stage.
- The banner for the Almeida Company was taken down from the lobby and new signs were mounted by the bathrooms.
- At one point in the rehearsal today the company's sound engineer made a derogatory remark regarding BAM's union crew. At one point in the show the crew yells and creates noise offstage. He said that our "damn union guys could scream too." The comment was heard over headsets and biscuits. I spoke to the engineer and was told that he had meant the comment in jest in the context of what was going on during rehearsal. I requested an apology for the crew and asked him to respect our crew as we respected theirs and that comments regarding our "damn union guys" are not taken lightly. Again he apologized to myself and said he would be more than happy to apologize to the crew as a whole. When he returned to headset he apologized but not everyone had heard since they were all returning from a brief break. It was discussed after the rehearsal and resolved.
- We are still unable to call the theater management office in the Harvey from the production office phone. A request to have it fixed was put in with IT.
- An air conditioning repair person was here to fix the air conditioner in the amp room. Production was not notified he was here until just before opening the house. The repairman wanted to stay and continue working while the show went on. It was decided that it was not a good idea to fix it during the show. He will come back tomorrow and continue the work.
- The house opened late due to a problem with the spotlight. It was swapped out before the house opened.
