The Board of Directors and Staff of Actors Theatre dedicate the 30th Anniversary Humana Festival of New American Plays to

Alexander "Sandy" Speer

Upon his retirement, we express our heartfelt gratitude for his remarkable 40-year dedication to and passion for Actors Theatre.

A MESSAGE FROM MARC

Welcome to the 30th anniversary of the Humana Festival of New American Plays. This space is usually dedicated to singing the praises of the American Playwright. We love them, we nurture them and we produce them. We place the writers at the center of our theatrical universe, and we thank them for their energy and inspiration. They are the primary reason we gather in Louisville each year for our own version of March Madness.

Hundreds of writers have seen their work come to fruition here over the three decades of the Humana Festival. And there have been thousands of people working behind the scenes to help them realize their vision. Two towering figures deserve special attention on this occasion, as they have poured their hearts and souls into each of the festival's thirty years. Their accomplishment is remarkable today in any field, much less one that is as transitory as the theatre.

Alexander "Sandy" Speer, who will be retiring at the close of this festival, has spent 40 years of his life building this institution and is the only administrative leader the company has ever known. He is a visionary and an innovator who created the opportunity, molded the structure and steered the festival and the theatre to national prominence. His quiet grace, passion for the art and creative thinking are an inspiration to all who know him, even though he prefers to stay in the wings.

Paul Owen, Actors Theatre's beloved resident scene designer, will continue to contribute his three-dimensional thinking to our theatres. With over three hundred world premiere sets, he stands in a unique place in the history of the American Theatre. His astonishing career is being celebrated in the hallways and on the walls of our lobby spaces during the festival this year.

The collective imagination of all its participants is what gives the theatre its special power. Our visionary sponsor, imaginative audiences, inspired artists, dedicated technicians and hard-working administrators all contribute something to the Humana Festival's thirty years of production. At the center of it all, the 16 playwrights of this festival join me in thanking all of them—Sandy and Paul especially—for making it all possible.

Marc Masterson,
Artistic Director

A pearl is the traditional symbol of a 30th anniversary, and aptly so for this celebration of the birth of the Humana Festival of New American Plays in 1976. The Latin word for pearl means "unique," with no two pearls being identical.

Actors Theatre of Louisville's Humana Festival of New American Plays is unique in the world of the theatre, offering the opportunity for new and original voices to be heard. And no two Humana Festivals have been alike, each one testing the boundaries of theatre in different ways to reveal the wonders of the stage and the power of live drama.

We congratulate Actors Theatre of Louisville and its Artistic Director, Marc Masterson, and salute the playwrights, actors, directors and audiences participating in this milestone year of the award-winning Humana Festival.

We also honor Jon Jory and his colleagues who created this grand theatrical adventure thirty years ago, and Humana's co-founders, David A. Jones and Wendell Cherry, who nurtured their vision over the years.

The Humana Foundation is a proud sponsor as the curtain rises on the unique and exciting 2006 Humana Festival of New American Plays!
