

Chess Match No. 5

Theater, Experimental

📍 June Havoc Theatre (at the Abingdon Theatre Arts Complex) (/newyork/theater/june-havoc-theatre-at-the-abingdon-theatre-arts-complex), Hell's Kitchen

📅 Until Sunday April 2 2017 $$$$ ★★★★★ ★★★★★ (1)

Photograph: Maria Baranova

1 ADD REVIEW

❤️ LOVE IT

🔖 SAVE IT

BUY TICKETS (HTTPS://WEB.OVATIONTIX.COM/TRS/PR/968548)

TIME OUT SAYS ★★★★★

Theater review by Helen Shaw

The SITI company is an odd place to find a tribute to composer John Cage. SITI (as an extension of its legendary director Anne Bogart) favors rigor, training and long rehearsal periods; Cage was interested in serendipity, turning randomness into method. SITI's style is full of choreographed gesture, finely executed angles, exact articulations; Cage was an iconoclast who thought noise was music. Bogart meets Cage! It could be a battle of the postmodern masters. Watching Chess Match No. 5 now at the Abingdon Theatre, the hope is that Cage will be a bull in SITI's china shop, that a bit of chaos will break up the company's marmoreal aesthetic. But even as it quotes Cage, Match resists him, and the resulting performance is respectful, warm-hearted, lovely...and inert.

James Schuette's set is an elegant room: midcentury chairs and tables, a telephone on one wall, a dense cloud of lightbulbs overhead. On one table near the rear are a coffeepot and a toaster; sound designer Darron L. West hangs microphones low over them, so that we can hear the machines' cheerful little gurgles and nons. A shinning radio murmurs in English and Spanish, sometimes slewing down the dial into dance tunes. Otherwise, Welcome to Time Out. By continuing to browse this site you are agreeing to our use of cookies — read our cookie policy here (/newyork/privacy-policy).

but it's somehow moving towards the ambient stuff you hear at the yoga studio.

The 85-minute long Chess Match No. 5 is in the vein of SITl's other homage dramas, joining Bob (on Robert Wilson), Hotel Cassiopeia (on Joseph Cornell) and Score (on Leonard Bernstein). These works address the worship-object with collage techniques; here, the dramaturg Jocelyn Clarke assembles quotations from Cage's many interviews and turns them into a kind of ur-conversation between He (Will Bond) and She (Ellen Lauren). The two share Cage's text, though She often seems to be a friend or academic drawing He out. She also interjects little one-minute fables of Zen-inspired charm (many taken from Cage's 1959 work Indeterminacy), and they play chess, seemingly "for real."

There should be an interesting tension between Bogart and Cage—there's so much that's different, they should come together in a crash. But the SITl method sands and polishes and burnishes 'til there's no salient edge left. Though the piece is about Cage, it doesn't use Cage: aside from the chess games, all of Bogart's structures are rigid; the actors always hit their marks; the radio's "random" signal reveals itself as a pre-set recording. "Any training in art is at least a partial training in anarchy!" He says, and laughs. But Bond, a precise and dapper performer, has no anarchy at all in him. (That laugh—you can hear it—was calibrated to the microdecible.) Lauren is also a preternaturally controlled actor, and in the right material these two can seem like gorgeous, oiled machines. But Chess Match No. 5 is supposed to be about the patron saint of messiness, a quality deeply antithetical to either performer.

"One never reaches a point of shapedness or finishedness," She says, and you know Cage said it just before whipping another metaphorical hammer at some old way of doing things. Meanwhile, you've never seen something so shaped in your life, nor something so bound to a method that was worked out long ago.

June Havoc Theatre (at the Abingdon Theatre Arts Complex). Conceived and directed by Anne Bogart. Text arranged by Jocelyn Clarke. With Will Bond and Ellen Lauren. Running time: 1hr 25mins. No intermission. Through Apr 2.

BY: HELEN SHAW

POSTED: THURSDAY FEBRUARY 23 2017

- Close full review

DETAILS

Venue name:

June Havoc Theatre (at the Abingdon Theatre Arts Complex) (<https://www.timeout.com/newyork/theater/june-havoc-theatre-at-the-abingdon-theatre-arts-complex>)

Address:

312 W 36th St
New York

Cross street:

between Eighth and Ninth Aves, first floor
+ Show more details

DATES AND TIMES

March 2017

TUE

MAR 21

📍 June Havoc Theatre (at the Abingdon Theatre Arts Complex) (https://www.timeout.com/newyork/theater/june-havoc-theatre-at-the-abingdon-theatre-arts-complex?locale=en_US)

🕒 7:00pm

💰 $55

BUY TICKETS (HTTPS://WEB.OVATIONTIX.COM/TRS/PR/968548)

+ Show more dates

WED

📍 June Havoc Theatre (at the Abingdon Theatre Arts Complex) (https://www.timeout.com/newyork/theater/june-havoc-theatre-at-the-abingdon-theatre-arts-complex?locale=en_US)

USERS SAY (1) ★★★★★

Welcome to Time Out. By continuing to browse this site you are agreeing to our use of cookies — read our cookie policy here (</newyork/privacy-policy>).

+ Show more reviews

Got a tip? Send it to tips@timeout.com (<mailto:tips@timeout.com>)

You Might Also Like

The 10 hottest chorus boys opening in Broadway musicals this spring (2016)
(<http://www.timeout.com/newyork/theater/the-10-hottest-chorus-boys-opening-in-broadway-musicals-this-spring-2016>)

Wakey, Wakey
(<https://www.timeout.com/newyork/theater/wakey-wakey>)

The 50 best free things to do in NYC
(<http://www.timeout.com/newyork/things-to-do/the-50-best-free-things-to-do-in-nyc>)

The best indoor activities in NYC
(<https://www.timeout.com/newyork/things-to-do/best-indoor-activities-in-nyc>)

Sponsored Content

Study Finds Blue Apron is Cheaper than the Grocery Store
Promoted - (Blue Apron)
(http://try.blueapron.com/https://ad.doubleclick.net/ddm/trackclk/N6296186294OUTBRAININC/B10742118.146040200;dc_trk_aid=317762587;dc_trk_cid=188294OUTBRAININC/B10742118.146040200;utm_campaign=OB_D_CBOIN&utm_medium=content-paid&utm_source=outbrain&utm_content=OB_D_CBOIN_000b33a2a26ae5bcdcac2b01e26c529f81&utm_term=content-paid.outbrain.OB_D_CBOIN)

Don't Fall For Cable's Unequal Internet Speeds.
Promoted - (Verizon Fios)

The Absolute Best Sheets You Will Ever Find. Period.
Promoted - (Business Insider)
(<https://www.brooklinen.com/pages/business-insider-outbrain>)

Recommended by (<https://www.outbrain.com/what-is/default/en>)

Near June Havoc Theatre (at the Abingdon Theatre Arts Complex)

Staghorn Steakhouse

Beauty 35

Hey Gorgeous!

Chef Vu

Welcome to Time Out. By continuing to browse this site you are agreeing to our use of cookies — read our cookie policy here (</newyork/privacy-policy>).

