

DATEBOOK

ONLINE: sfgate.com/datebook

Zone 1 3 5

SECTION

D

Friday,
March 29, 2002

COLOR PHOTO

Critics' Picks

THEATER: A bracing double bill by Anne Bogart's vivid SITI Company ends with the final performances of "Bob" at the Cowell Theater this weekend.

Like "Room" (a one-woman meditation on Virginia Woolf), this "dramatic portrait" inspired by avant-garde stage director Robert Wilson is a richly layered solo response to another artist. The hyperkinetic Will Bond portrays the famously laconic Wilson, in an intense solo rhapsody and deconstruction ticked with affectionate satire. Presented by the Magic Theatre. Through Sunday. At the Cowell Theater, Pier 2, Fort Mason, San Francisco. Tickets: $27-$47. (415) 441-8822, www.magictheatre.org.

— Steven Winn

