Cabin Pressure

A mysterious, romantic exploration of the relationship between actors and audiences.

—COLUMBUS DISPATCH

Wexner Center theater followers eagerly await each new production by vanguard director Anne Bogart and her superlative SITI company. To conclude our fall Countdown festival and provide a poignant prelude to the year 2000, SITI returns with Cabin Pressure, an ingeniously stylized and touching meditation on the relationship between actors and their audiences. The performance alternates scenes of audience members coming to terms with the dramatic impulse and fast-cut sections evoking moments from theater history, including cleverly constructed nods to Molière, Noel Coward, and Edward Albee.

Funded in part by the National Dance Project of the New England Foundation for the Arts, with lead funding from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation. Additional funding provided by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and the Philip Morris Companies Inc.

Presented at the Wexner Center with additional support from the National Endowment for the Arts. The performances are a Heartland Arts Fund Program supported by the National Endowment for the Arts and the Ohio Arts Council.
