

READING ROOM READINGS

---

March 27, 8 p.m

---

GOING, GOING, GONE

conceived and directed by Anne Bogart

---

Going, Going, Gone is based on texts by Stephen Hawking and others from the world of new physics. The play juxtaposes these writings with a focus on domestic relationships and suggests how innovations in science can change our day to day understanding of the world. Going, Going, Gone is a project of the Saratoga International Theater Institute (SITI).

FREE ADMISSION

Bruno Walter Auditorium, 40 Lincoln Center Plaza, enter at Amsterdam Avenue between 64th & 65th Streets, 212-870-1630.

The 1994-95 Reading Room Readings series is made possible in part by a generous gift from Morton and Linda Janklow. The New York Public Library for the Performing Arts thanks Chivas Regal for its generous support of our 1994-95 season of programming. We also gratefully acknowledge the leadership support of Dorothy and Lewis B. Cullman. The Library's public programming is supported with public funds from the Cultural Challenge Initiative, a joint program of the New York State Council on the Arts, a state agency, and the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs.
